

By the end of the 20 year planning period, around 1990, Biscoe will probably have a population of about 1,370. The one mile fringe area should have about 1,167 people. This will make the population of the Biscoe Planning Area 2,537 in 1990.

Careful planning and implementation must begin now if this anticipated population is to be adequately provided for.